Offered to Surrender.

An extraordinary incident in connection with the presence of an American train in Havana is reported. It is said that a certain American, who is a member of the moderate caucus, offered to surrender to the Cuban government. This offer was made in the presence of the Cuban government, and it is said that the Cuban government accepted the offer.

The masculine mind has no interest in looking up with details of men's fashions.

The busy business man of today wants results!

So without giving the innumerable points of the new Fall styles in lapels, buttons, vents, curves, hang, finish, etc., we simply state that during the Summer we have selected and had made the finest line of suits and overcoats ever shown, and wish you to examine the assortment.

Suits and Overcoats, $12.50 to $40.00.

Dunlap, Heath, and other Hatters as low as $1.50.

We won't let you have an unbecoming hat.
